LETTER FROM THE PROGRAM CHAIR

Welcome to the 64th Annual Meeting of the Evangelical Theological Society

“And God saw everything that he had made, and behold, it was very good” (Gen. 1:31 ESV). But from there a lot has gone downhill. Our conference theme this year, “Caring for Creation,” is an occasion to bring Scripture and Christian thought to bear on problems and possible remedies relating to environmental issues.

It is a propitious moment for ETS to explore these issues. 1) They are constantly in the headlines in media outlets worldwide. 2) They draw increasing attention from Christian groups, whether the NAE in recent years or the Lausanne Movement with its Consultation on Creation Care (October 29–November 2, 2012). 3) They are increasingly integral to Christian ministry, whether in informing the people of God or in mobilizing them for effective action. 4) They impinge on all of our lives and livelihoods in very tangible and personal ways.

Karl Marx gets credit for an adage to the effect that the point is not to understand the world but to change it. Yet what could be more disastrous than ill-informed activism when it comes to the physical systems through which God sustains life on this planet?

Our distinguished speakers’ plenary presentations will combine with scores of theme-directed studies and discussion to encourage wise rather than reactionary response to the pressing problems of our day and beyond.

As always, many presenters will focus on topics not directly related to creational concerns. Yet everything that promotes clearer understanding of God, his word, and his ways can only benefit the integrity of Christian interface with environment issues.

My special thanks are due to J. Michael Thigpen and his staff for their yeoman’s labor in organizing this annual meeting. Our Society expresses gratitude to Kregel Publications for producing our printed programs.

Looking forward to great days in Milwaukee!

CONFERENCE OVERVIEW

PARALLEL SESSIONS

The parallel sessions are composed of five different session types.

A Affiliated Society sessions feature presentations that were selected and arranged by one of the three societies which join ETS each year: the Adventist Theological Society, the Evangelical Philosophical Society, and the Near Eastern Archaeological Society.

D Discipline specific sessions are composed of presentations that were submitted by ETS members and rated by a panel of scholars who served under the direction of the program chair. These presentations have been grouped into basic disciplines: Old Testament, New Testament, Systematic Theology, and Church History/Historical Theology.

P Program Unit sessions are a combination of invited papers and proposed presentations which were selected by the program unit steering committees. ETS has three types of program units. Consultations are new program units which are responsible for 1 session of invited papers at the meeting. Study Groups are narrowly focused groups which require active, collaborative participation by the group members. ETS encourages study groups to publish the results of their work. Study groups are responsible for one session of invited papers at the annual meeting. Sections are broadly defined groups that represent general areas of interest. Responsible for one session of invited papers and one session of papers drawn from member submissions, the sections offer the most access for unsolicited papers.

T Theme sessions are composed of presentations submitted by members, which address the topic of No Other Name. These presentations were evaluated by a panel of scholars under the direction of the program chair. The theme presentations have been arranged into cohesive sessions based on texts, topics, and methods.

C Career sessions are special sessions that are designed to help ETS members in their careers. These sessions include discussions of the academic job market, publishing, interviewing and other significant career development topics.

ETS ANNUAL MEETING STUDENT SCHOLARSHIP SPONSORS

The ETS Annual Meeting Student Scholarship Program is designed to help academically promising students who find participation in the Society economically prohibitive, or who come from a traditionally underrepresented group to get to know the Society, its functions, its leaders, and the role it plays in supporting conservative evangelical scholarship. The goal of the program is to encourage and support students who might otherwise not participate in the Society to appreciate the value of membership and the profitable part that it might play in their academic and ministry futures.

The following sponsors support the scholarship program by providing vouchers for books, software, and other valuable study aids. Each scholarship recipient will be able to go back to his or her studies with a significantly enhanced personal library. Given the high quality of the publications offered by our exhibitors this is a truly unique opportunity for these students.

Please be sure to visit these sponsors and thank them for their support. If your organization would like to help sponsor the scholarship program, please contact the ETS Executive Director, Michael Thigpen, (director@etsjets.org).

The Bible cannot be read like any other book.

We believe the Bible is God's word written. It is therefore fully trustworthy and able to teach us how to know our Lord and serve his people. At Beeson Divinity School, we emphasize Biblical Theology and the ability to preach and teach directly from the Hebrew and Greek scriptures.

Our faculty are serious students of God's word, and the books they publish reflect that. Beeson is not merely a graduate school for the study of religion, it is a living community of faith and learning. Above all else, we want our students to be men and women of God.

GLOBAL VOICES

Reading the Bible in the Majority World

CRAIG KEENER & M. DANIEL CARROLL R., EDITORS

"Part of the significance of listening to global readings of Scripture is to learn from the perspective of other people in other cultures and spaces. Sometimes we need to hear their voices and see the things they notice that we do not. Sometimes we need to understand their processes of interpretation. Sometimes, though, we need to be corrected by them in ways big and small."

—Nijay Gupta, Assistant Professor of NT, Eastern University

"This volume contains a rich selection of interpretations from first-rate biblical scholars from a variety of backgrounds from around the world. We offer these essays as a taste of the fruitful work and constructive conversations that can be generated when the Bible is read with different lenses but with a common commitment to Scripture's unique role in communicating God's message."

—From the Introduction

"What is new—and so encouraging—is that some Western biblical scholars, as never before, are actively engaging points of view from different parts of the globe. They are not judging these readings as simply other interesting perspectives to be added to the growing list of postmodern options that cannot make substantive claims to divine truth. To the contrary, these scholars appreciate these contributions as containing uniquely useful windows into the biblical text, which heretofore have been missed or ignored. This exchange of ideas is becoming a shared enterprise, a mutual learning exercise."

FORMATION OF THE BIBLE

The Story of the Church's Canon

LEE MARTIN McDONALD

Christians may well ask why we need to spend any time on the origin of the Bible; wouldn't it be better simply to read and use it to advance the mission of the church? What difference does a background study make now, and why are we focusing on the Bible of the early churches? Such questions are not unfamiliar to those who attempt to tell the story of the origin of the Bible. However, if the Bible conveys the Word of God and clarifies to us who God is, what the will of God is for us, who we are as the people of God, and what our mission in this world is, then the question cannot be unimportant for Christian faith. Given the current skepticism of many contemporary scholars about the origin of the Bible and its faith claims, it is important to answer recent challenges to the Bible and to aid those who recognize the Bible as a sacred book, but who do not regularly deal with its origins.

AN INTRODUCTION TO UGARITIC

JOHN HUEHNERGARD

It is difficult to overestimate the impact that the discovery of the Ugaritic texts has had on the study of the Hebrew Bible. Various features of Ugaritic grammar have helped to clarify previously obscure, or even unknown, aspects of the grammar of Biblical Hebrew. This book presents an essential outline of the grammar of Ugaritic and includes vocalized transcriptions, transliteration and transcription conventions, historical and comparative linguistics, as well as a selection of the main genres of texts for the student to study. Full-color photographs of a number of the original Ugaritic clay tablets are included.

Biblical Stewardship

Around the world, people are starving, forests are dwindling and species are going extinct—in part because we have ignored and at times distorted the biblical call to steward the earth. On top of that, an unbelieving world is watching to see what, if anything, Christians will do to care for the planet and people we claim God created. Join us as we respond in Jesus' name.

A Rocha is an international Christian conservation organization showing God's love for all His creation through scientific research, hands-on conservation projects and educational programs. In the United States, A Rocha is mobilizing a nationwide network of community-based projects—followers of Jesus planting gardens, cleaning streams, protecting forests...caring for people and the planet.

Au Sable is a Christian institute of environmental studies which teaches others the knowledge and skills of how to serve and protect God's good creation. We do this through advanced, field-based courses for college students, scientific research, theological conferences and publications, and by building a supportive community of Christians engaged in all aspects of the care of creation.

Care of Creation Inc. works to mobilize the worldwide church toward a God-centered response to the global environmental crisis. We do this with demonstration projects in Kenya and Tanzania, and through seminars, consultation and collaboration elsewhere.

Environmental missionaries are those sent cross-culturally to labor with Christ—the Creator, Sustainer and Redeemer of all creation—in caring for the environment and making disciples among all peoples. Eden Vigil seeks to love Christ and His created through mobilizing and serving those who combine church-planting and creation care among least-reached peoples.

Founded in 1993 the Evangelical Environmental Network is a ministry dedicated to biblical creation care. Our network seeks to equip, inspire, disciple, and mobilize God's people in their effort to care for God's creation. For us creation care is a matter of life: for God's creation, for our life in Christ, and for future generations.

Plant With Purpose is an international, Christian environmental organization that transforms lives in rural areas where poverty is caused by deforestation. For over 25 years, Plant With Purpose has provided lasting solutions to heal relationships between God, people and their environment by planting trees, implementing sustainable agriculture programs, creating economic opportunity and sharing the Good News of Jesus.

An Exegetical & Theological Exposition of Holy Scripture

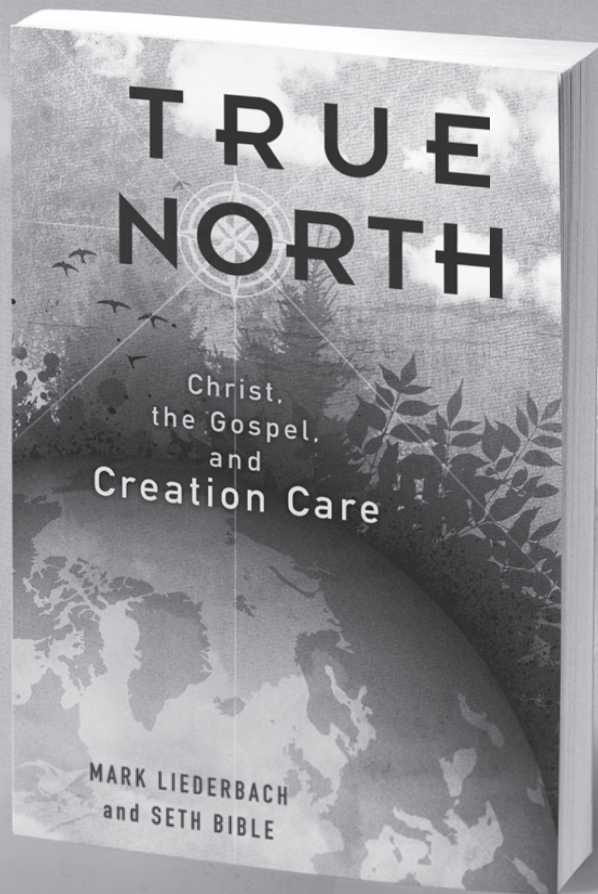

"One of the saddest and most paradoxical things in the world is a dull commentary on the Book of Revelation.

How can one make one of the most mysterious and blood-pulsing books in all of Scripture dry? Here is an antidote. Paige Patterson, one of the most titanic figures in evangelical thought, approaches the Apocalypse of Patmos with wit, wonder, and insight. Even readers who don't accept Patterson's pretribulational, premillennial structure will benefit from his unfolding of the vision, always clear about where he stands and why. Read this commentary to grapple with the text, yes, but read it also so you can catch something of Patterson's awe and wonder before the slain-but-standing Lamb."

Every word matters.

Every word of Scripture matters because every word is from God and for people. Because every word is from God, the HCSB uses words like Yahweh (Is. 42:8), Messiah (Luke 3:15), and slave (Rev. 1:1). And because every word of Scripture is for 21st century people, the HCSB replaces words like “Behold” with modern terms like “Look.” For these reasons and others, Christians across the globe are taking a fresh look at the HCSB.

EQUIPPED FOR THE JOURNEY

That the man of God may be adequate, equipped for every good work. —2 Timothy 3:17

Equipped: ἐξαρτίζω (v) to be made thoroughly furnished and equipped; used of the outfitting of a ship for a voyage or an army for battle. Being capable of performing the service expected.

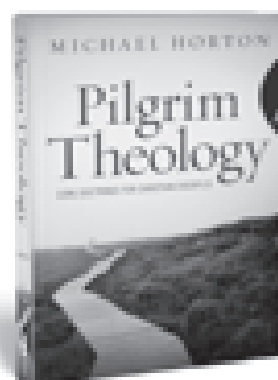

Like a fully outfitted ship ready to embark on a voyage at sea, the man of God is to be thoroughly equipped, totally prepared. He is to be adequate, ready and able to meet all demands that come his way. This is what we seek to produce through our Doctor of Theology and Doctor of Ministry programs—men who are fully prepared for key leadership positions. We desire each man to be like a ship's captain, a master of the Word in ready command of his ministry under the Lord Jesus Christ.
